APPLICATION PROCESS

Admission to the Programs

Applications are welcomed year-round for either Fall or Spring semesters. As an applicant, you will be assigned to a personal counselor who will help guide you through the admissions process. The Committee on Admissions bases entry decisions on the evaluation of:

- Completed application form and non-refundable application fee
- Personal statement
- Official transcripts from all prior post-secondary academic institutions
- Completed interview with the Program Director
- A brief résumé or curriculum vitae
- Portfolio (required for Art Education and New Media Photojournalism, optional for Interior Design, Exhibition Design, Art and the Book)
- Letters of recommendation (three letters required for Art Education; two letters required for Exhibition Design, Art and the Book)
- Certification or praxis test results (MAT)

Students should assemble and submit all required pieces in one packet.

After receipt and review of all materials by the Admissions office, the departmental interview may be arranged.

The Corcoran is proud to support our students with scholarships and grant programs throughout all years of study. Students are automatically considered for multi-year merit scholarships at the time of admissions. No additional forms are required. Students applying for need-based aid should complete the free federal application form at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

For more information on admissions requirements or to apply, visit www.corcoran.edu or call the Admissions office to arrange a visit.

THE CORCORAN

Centered on the idea of direct and intense creative education, the Corcoran College of Art + Design is the only college of art and design in Washington, D.C., the nation's cultural capital. The Corcoran's vibrant and active community includes more than 600 degree students pursuing a wide range of Associate's, Bachelor's and Master's degrees in the visual arts. Classrooms and studio spaces are throughout the city: alongside museum exhibitions in the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and amid galleries and boutiques in historic Georgetown. The College also offers part-time credit and non-credit classes for pre-college students and adults through its extensive Continuing Education department.

Founded in 1890, the Corcoran College of Art + Design is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104; Telephone 267-284-5000). The Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation. The College is also an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design. The Corcoran is a member of the Association of Independent Colleges of Art and Design and the Consortium of Universities of the Washington Metropolitan Area.
